

Join the International Summer School Biodiversity Monitoring in Alpine Environments and spend two weeks in an intensive learning environment in the Swiss Alps!

Summer school is organized by the Zurich University of Applied Sciences and offers an opportunity to learn:

- ✓ Flora/vegetation, vertebrates and selected insect groups
- ✓ Modern sampling methods, including permanent monitoring plots
- ✓ Advanced analytical and statistical methods
- ✓ Project work in small groups

